Personality Temperaments

There are four basic personality temperaments. We affectionately call them:

The Lion

The Otter

The Beaver

The Golden Retriever

Each person normally has one temperament that is stronger than the other three.

The Lions are the leaders but can be bossy, proud, hard to please and domineering.

The Otters just love people and want to have fun but are undisciplined and disorganized.

The Beavers will make sure the work is done and done correctly but are rigid and critical.

The Golden Retrievers will make sure everyone feels loved and is happy but are indecisive and unmotivated.

Which of these describes you the most accurately?

Jesus, the perfect man, was a combination of all four personality types.
